

AgencyLogic and National Institute of Webographers announce AgencyLogic as the official “Single-Property Website” Sponsor in the REAL ESTATE WEBOGRAPHER™ certification.

Wappingers Falls, NY. December 13, 2006 - AgencyLogic (www.agencylogic.com), one of the largest real estate industry providers of property Websites in North America, today announced that it has been awarded the corporate sponsorship of the “Single-Property Website” competency within the REAL ESTATE WEBOGRAPHER Ô certification.

As the leader in technology-awareness training, assessment and certification for real estate professionals, the National Institute of Webographers (www.webographers.com) looks to showcase exemplary products to best promote technology awareness and adoption by real estate professionals.

"We are excited to showcase PowerSites™ by AgencyLogic to the candidates of the REAL ESTATE WEBOGRAPHER™ certification. In terms of ease-of-use and usefulness, the system is perfect for real estate professionals looking to establish single property Websites well after certification," said Marc Grayson, President of the National Institute of Webographers.

Single property Websites have become the most powerful listing tool available for real estate agents. They put the seller’s interest back in the forefront by establishing a full Web presence for one property. Such single-property Websites include photos, property descriptions, floor plans, links to virtual tours, custom neighborhood and area information, and much more. At Webographers.com, candidates will be required to create a single-property Website using the AgencyLogic PowerSites™ service.

"We are very honored to work with the National Institute of Webographers," said Stephen Fells, CEO of AgencyLogic. "The real estate business moves very quickly and training courses that showcase the latest in technology are a great way for forward thinking agents to stay ahead of their competition. PowerSites help agents to win more listings, defend their commissions and save their marketing budget. In such a competitive marketplace, using the best tools and technologies available is an absolute necessity, and Webographers understand that."
